It's heartening to hear about the proactive approach taken by the Commerce Department at Government College Bajpur to address the issue of drug addiction among students. Organizing a lecture on anti-drug education demonstrates a commitment to the well-being and success of the student body beyond academic achievement.

The choice of Subhash Chandra, a Research Scholar (JRF) from the department, as the lecturer likely provided valuable insights and expertise on the topic. His involvement would have added depth and credibility to the presentation, making it more impactful for the students.

Highlighting the importance of staying away from drugs as students transition into the next phase of their lives is crucial. By emphasizing that avoiding drug addiction can help them achieve their basic goals, the lecture likely resonated with the students on a personal level, motivating them to make positive choices for their future.

The presence of esteemed professors such as Dr. Manpreet Singh, Dr. Atish Verma, and Mr. Hitendra Sharma further underscores the significance of the event. Their support not only adds weight to the message but also demonstrates the department's unified stance against drug abuse.

With 30 M.Com 4th sem students participating, it's evident that there is a receptive audience for such educational initiatives. Hopefully, this lecture serves as a catalyst for awareness and encourages students to make informed decisions that prioritize their health and well-being as they navigate through life beyond college.
